The Capitol Steps perform Tuesday

By MATTHEW MCKELLIPS
Staff Reporter

The Capitol Steps are a political satire group that claims to have put the “Mock” in Democracy, and are coming to Southwestern on Tuesday, Oct. 15. The show will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Fine Arts Center.

Performing at the Fine Arts Center, The Capitol Steps act that has been featured on NBC, CBS, ABC, and PBS, includes singing and short comedy skits about current and past politicians. Being a comedy group the Capital Steps are not amateurs when it comes to politics. They began in 1981 by a group of staffers for Senator Charles Percy while planning Christmas party.

Tickets are available at the Southwestern Public Relations and Marketing Office, Room 205 in the Administration Building. Students and staff are $5, others are $10, and tickets at the door will be $20.

Former Vice Presidential candidate Sarah Palin will be one of many politicians who will “appear” next Tuesday at the Capitol Steps performance.

Students can vote this week for king/queen

Southwestern's Homecoming is Saturday, Oct. 27, and 18 homecoming king and queen candidates were recently announced for the festivities in Weatherford.

Theatre presents Brighton Beach Memoirs

Show begins Thursday

Southwestern's Department of Communication and Theatre begins its 2012-2013 theatre season with Neil Simon's comedy, Brighton Beach Memoirs, with performances October 11-13 at 7:30 p.m. nightly in the SWOSU Hilltop Theatre.

Admission is $5 for adults, $3 for non-SWOSU students, and free for individuals with a valid SWOSU id. For more information or to make reservations, the SWOSU Hilltop Theatre box office hours are Monday through Friday from 4-7 p.m. The box office phone number is 774.6046.

Brighton Beach Memoirs is the first part of a trilogy of plays that Simon wrote as a semi-autobiographical depiction of his own life. The 14-year old Eugene Jerome, portrayed by Okeene sophomore Drew Krause, is the play's narrator and central character. Dreaming of baseball and girls, Eugene must cope with the mundane existence of his family life in Brooklyn: formidable mother Kate Jerome (Monica Sallaway, Omaha (NE) sophomore), overworked father (Merritt Taylor, Cordell sophomore), and his worldly older brother Stanley Jerome (Adam Boothby, Guymon junior).

Throw into the mix his widowed aunt Blanche Morton (Nikki Reiss, Moore sophomore) and her two young but rapidly aging daughters Laurie (Emma Leffler, Arlington (TX) freshman) and Nora (Sheri Flowers, Edmond sophomore). All of these characters living under one roof provide a perfect recipe for hilarity. This bittersweet memoir evocatively captures the life of a struggling Jewish household where, as his father states “if you didn't have a problem, you wouldn't be living here.” Discretion is advised for the production of Brighton Beach Memoirs due to some subject matter and language. Other members of the company are Kiefer Fulsom (Newkirk junior), Randi Rowland (Tuttle junior), Carmen Rutledge (Lawton sophomore), Steven Doughty (Yukon senior), James Brennan (Lawton junior), Calley Lamar (Okeene sophomore) and faculty Stephen Haynes and Steve Strickler.

Political forum set for next Tuesday

A political forum featuring an overview of the six state questions that will be on the November 6 ballot is being held Tuesday, October 16, at Southwestern.

SWOSU President Randy Beutler will give an overview at 7 p.m. in the SWOSU Conference Center. The public is invited and encouraged to attend the free forum, which is sponsored by the American Association of University Women.

The six state questions on the Oklahoma ballot are:

SQ 758: would limit increases on fair cash value of property taxes

SQ 759: would ban affirmative action programs

SQ 762: would remove the governor from the state parole process in certain circumstances

SQ 764: would create the Water Infrastructure Credit Enhancement Reserve Fund

SQ 765: would constitutionally abolish the Department of Human Services, its commission and its director and would allow the Legislature to re-create that agency

SQ 766: would abolish property taxes on intangible property

English professor selected to lead literary society

SWOSU English Professor Kevin Collins was recently elevated to the presidency of the William Gilmore Simms Society at the group's biennial conference at the University of South Carolina in Columbia.

Dr. Collins had served for the last two years as the society's president-elect.

The Simms Society is composed of scholars from universities across the country and around the world, including individuals from such prominent research institutions as the University of Georgia, University of South Carolina, Penn State University, Clemson University, University of Arkansas, University of California at Santa Cruz, Boston University and Indiana State University as well as universities in such foreign countries as Japan, Russia, and Northern Ireland. The group is dedicated to scholarly work on Simms, one of the most popular and prolific of American authors during the first half of the nineteenth century.

Collins has published extensively on Simms in refereed literary journals. In addition, he edited a new scholarly edition of Simms's novel, The Cassique of Kiawah, published by the University of Arkansas Press in 2003. More recently, he has produced a critical introduction for a print-on-demand electronic republication of Simms's Vasconselos on The Simms Initiatives, a website sponsored by the University of South Carolina. This introduction was included in the paper version of the novel released this August by the USC Press.

Collins's upcoming publications include "How Sharp Snaffles Had His Cake and Ate It Too," an essay in William Gilmore Simms's Unfinished Civil War, a collection of studies on Simms's wartime and post-war writings scheduled for release next February by the USC Press. In addition, his new scholarly edition of Vasconselos is scheduled for release by the University of Arkansas Press in the fall of 2013.

AAUW members put together baskets containing mints and other items having the pink ribbon logo and messages of hope and support in honor of "Breast Cancer Awareness Month" during October. The baskets are stationed at various businesses in Weatherford, Clinton, Arapaho, Thomas and Hydro. Displaying some of the baskets are (from left) Debbie Brown, Patsy Parker, Faye Henson, Emily Avera, Valerie Reimers, Denise Landrum-Geyer and Lisa Appeddu.

Project raises cancer awareness

October is "Breast Cancer Awareness Month," and the Weatherford Branch of the American Association of University Women (AAUW) is helping to spread the word.

Local AAUW President Patsy Parker said members recognize the risk and impact that breast cancer can have on women's lives. Two current members are breast cancer survivors, and one member lost a sister and aunt to breast cancer.

AAUW members put together baskets containing mints and other items having the pink ribbon logo and messages of hope and support. Baskets are sponsored by the members themselves. In addition, the Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation donated bookmarks and breast self-exam cards, most which were taken for distribution to the Agape Free Health Clinic.

AAUW made 30 baskets that have been distributed around the SWOSU campus and in businesses throughout Weatherford, Clinton, Arapaho, Thomas and Hydro for the month of October.

The AAUW works to promote education and equity for women and girls. The next meeting of the Weatherford chapter is a political forum, open to the public, on October 16 at 7 p.m. in the SWOSU Conference Center. President Randy Beutler will host the event. For more information or if you would like to display a basket, contact Parker at (580) 774-3284.

THE SOUTHWESTERN is the student newspaper of Southwestern Oklahoma State University. It is published every Wednesday during the fall and spring semesters, except during holidays and finals week. Students in the editing class serve as section editors, and students in the news gathering and reporting class serve as writers.

The editorial board meets every Wednesday at 2:00 p.m. in the journalism lab, Campbell 211.

THE SOUTHWESTERN encourages comments from the student body, faculty, and administration in the form of letters to the editor. All letters must include a name for consideration; however, the name may be withheld upon request.

The opinions expressed within signed editorials are the opinions of the writers; the opinions expressed in unsigned, boxed editorials are the opinion of the staff. Neither is necessarily the opinion of the university administration, staff or faculty.

2013 Spring enrollment begins

BY KYLE LEE
Staff Reporter

It is time to enroll for the 2013 Spring semester. Southwestern juniors and seniors are able to enroll today, while sophomores will be able to enroll Oct. 15. Freshman can enroll starting on Oct. 22.

I know what you are thinking. "How do I enroll online? It seems so hard!" However, enrolling online is easy, and this is how you do it:

Log on to your 'My SWOSU' account, click on the 'Campus Connect' tab, and then click on 'Add/Drop Courses' under CampusConnect Student Links. Once here, select Spring 2013, your major, and you are ready to start adding classes.

Some students love enrolling so much they have never stopped. Heath Epley, a political science major, is about to embark on the journey of enrolling for his 12th semester here at SWOSU.

"Enrolling is a blast. It's fun, easy, and I don't even have to leave my dorm room!" said Epley.

Because you are able to enroll without any advisement what-so-ever, doesn't mean that you necessarily should. If you have any questions or concerns about the upcoming semester, don't hesitate to see an advisor.

Remember, any student with less than 30 credit hours is ineligible for online enrollment. Those students need to contact their advisers to get enrolled.

Sayre campus to host Fall Literary Festival

By SARAH SHEFFERD
Staff Reporter

On Wednesday, Oct. 10th, Southwestern at Sayre will host the Fall Literary Festival.

Three scholars will speak at the event, including Southwestern's own, Fred Alsberg.

The festival, which focuses on the literature, history, and culture of western Oklahoma, will begin at 9:00 a.m., with a panel discussion for student authors, and end at 2:00 p.m. with a panel discussion for local authors.

Book signing events are scheduled, as well as a Renaissance Fair and a Shopping Square. There will also be an open mic night at The Brick, a coffee shop in downtown Sayre, at 5:00 p.m.

Judy Haught, an instructor at the Sayre campus, received a grant of $5000 from the Oklahoma Humanities Council and the National Endowment for the Humanities to make the event, titled "Much Ado About Words: A Festival of Literary Proportions," possible.

For more information, please contact Judy Haught by phone at 928.5533 or by email at judy.haught@swosu.edu.

Impact event scheduled for today

Presentations on human trafficking and dealing with difficult people are the focus of an IMPACT events taking place October 10 on the Southwestern Oklahoma State University campus in Weatherford.

SWOSU's New Student Orientation is sponsoring the sessions for all SWOSU students.

At 12 noon in Stafford Center Room 104, SWOSU Dean of Students Cindy Dougherty will demonstrate effective ways of dealing with difficult people and how to recognize a difficult person. Lunch will again be provided to students.

IMPACT is a series of events and presentations to help students succeed in all facets of life. The goal of the series is to equip students to be successful inside and outside of the classroom.

For more information, contact New Student Orientation Coordinator Shelby Unruh at 580.774.3233 or by email at shelby.unruh@swosu.eduEMAIL.

Upcoming movies

On October 5th Taken 2 was released in theaters. The movie is set in Istanbul where he, his wife, and daughter Kim are located. Liam Neeson returns as Bryan Mills, the CIA agent with "a particular set of skills" for hunting down bad guys. This time he enlists his daughter to help him and his wife from being taken hostage.

October 12th Here comes the Boom will hit theaters. Former collegiate wrestler Scott Voss (Kevin James) is a 42 year-old apathetic biology teacher in a failing high school. When cutbacks threaten to cancel the music program and lay off its teacher (Henry Winkler), Scott begins to raise money by moonlighting as a mixed martial arts fighter. Everyone thinks Scott is crazy- most of all the school nurse, Bella (Salma Hayek)- but in his quest, Scott gains something he never expected as he becomes a sensation that rallies the entire school.

On November 9th Lincoln will come to theatres. Steven Spielberg directs two-time Academy Award winner Daniel Day-Lewis in Lincoln, a revealing drama that focuses on the 16th President's tumultuous final months in office. In a nation divided by war and the strong winds of change, Lincoln pursues a course of action designed to end the war, unite the country and abolish slavery. With the moral courage and fierce determination to succeed, his choices during this critical moment will change the fate of generations to come.

On November 16th Twilight: Breaking Dawn part 2 will be in theatres. In the highly anticipated next chapter of the blockbuster The Twilight Saga, the newfound married bliss of Bella Swan (Kristen Stewart) and vampire Edward Cullen (Robert Pattinson) is cut short when a series of betrayals and misfortunes threatens to destroy their world. After their wedding, Bella and Edward travel to Rio de Janeiro for their honeymoon, where they finally give in to their passions. Bella soon discovers she is pregnant, and during a nearly fatal childbirth, Edward finally fulfills her wish to become immortal. However, the arrival of their remarkable daughter, Renesmee, sets in motion a perilous chain of events that pits the Cullen's and their allies against the Volturi, the fearsome council of vampire leaders, setting the stage for an all-out battle.

History club travels to OKC

For the fourth year in a row, several SWOSU clubs joined together to travel to the Oklahoma City Museum of Art to view the short film finalists in the Manhattan Shorts Film Festival.

Each year, festival organizers select ten short films submitted from all over the world and screen them to audiences in more than a dozen countries. Audience members everywhere vote for their favorite selection and the Festival announces the international winner in October.

On September 28th, 60 students, faculty, spouses, and family members attended the screening. Students from the Southwestern International Student Association, Southwestern History Club, and the Latin Movie Club participated along with Dr. David Hertz, Dr. Vivien Chu, Dr. Chris Shane, Dr. Hardeep Saluja, Dr. Guneet Kaur, Dr. Guy Biyogmam, and Dr. John Hayden.

The group traveled to the city and dined at a Thai restaurant buffet.

Following dinner, the SWOSU contingent settled in at the Oklahoma City Museum's beautiful theater to view this year's ten finalists. Entries included films from Sweden, Russia, the U.S.A, Romania, Ireland, Peru, and Spain. At the end of the evening, there was a lot of discussion as each one cast ballots for their favorite.

Overall, it seemed that the film from Romania may have earned the most votes from the SWOSU club members in the audience.

The Manhattan Shorts Film Festival will announce which short did indeed garner the most votes world wide on Sunday, October 7th at 10PM Eastern Time. A portion of the expenses of this club activity was met using money granted by SWOSU's Student Allocation Committee.

Visor leads team to new heights

By CHASE BUSS
Staff Reporter

Kelsey Visor, a junior forward, is a big part of the Bulldogs undefeated soccer season this year.

Visor was SWOSU's leading scorer from a year ago with seven goals and four assists. This year Kelsey has four goals and one assist, including the only goal in Southwestern's 1-0 win over Oklahoma Baptist last weekend.

However, Visor said she would take team success over individual success any day, and so she is more excited about Southwestern's 11-0 start than her goals.

"It feels great to be undefeated. I'm just so proud of all the girls; we have worked so hard in practice and it is paying off," Visor said.

Visor started playing soccer when she was 5 years old. She went to Moore High School and graduated in 2010. Visor was an All-State soccer player her senior year and was also voted Team Offensive Player of the Year.

Kelsey is a health and physical education major. After college, Visor plans on being a high school physical education teacher.

SWOSU's next home game is Oct. 12 against Northwestern Oklahoma.

Bulldogs stay undefeated with 1-0 win

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. - Southwestern Oklahoma State escaped with a 1-0 shutout over Ouachita Baptist in Great American Conference action Saturday. The win helped improve the No. 9 Bulldogs record to 12-0 overall and 5-0 in conference play. The loss dropped the Tigers to 6-4 overall and 2-3 in the GAC.

SWOSU will return home on Friday as the take on winless rival Northwestern Oklahoma State University at 5 p.m.

After being scoreless in the first half of the contest, the Bulldogs scored the first and only goal of the game in the 70th minute when Kelsey Visor received a pass from Josie Price to knock in a shot from the left side of the goal, putting SWOSU up 1-0.

Visor now has four goals on the season.

Visor and Kira Bertrand lead the Bulldogs with three shots apiece, while Josie Price, Ash-

Kelsey Visor scored the game's only goal in Southwestern's 1-0 win over OBU.

lee Beitingner, Cori Kelly and Samantha Nunez added two each. As a team, SWOSU finished the match outshooting the Tiger by a 19-5 margin with 11 of the shots on goal.

Defensively, goalkeeper

Corey LaMoureux came away with three saves. She collected her eighth shutout of the season.

Football team falls to Ouachita

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. - Southwestern Oklahoma State was unable to put two halves together as No. 11 Ouachita Baptist Tigers cruised to a 33-12 win over the Bulldogs in Arkadelphia on Saturday afternoon.

The loss dropped SWOSU to 1-4 overall and 1-3 in the Great American Conference play. Ouachita Baptist improved to 5-0 and 3-0 in league play. SWOSU will next play Saturday, Oct. 15 when it hosts Arkansas Tech at Fast Lane Field. The game will begin at 2 p.m.

The Bulldogs gave up six points early when OBU's Chris Rycraw scored a 69 yard run at the 11:43 mark in the first half. SWOSU was able to stop the Tigers' momentum when Sophomore Devin Benton blocked the extra point attempt.

The Tigers quickly added to their lead when SWOSU's Aaron Wilson fumble was recovered by OBU's Aaron Garrett for 14 yards deep in Bulldog territory. On the next play, Tigers quarterback completed a pass to Drew White for a 5 yard touchdown, extending their lead to 12-0.

SWOSU was finally able to get on the scoreboard when kicker Colton Rainey's field goal attempt from 25-yards was successful. This gave the Bulldogs some momentum in the first quarter of action, sparking a 12-0 run. The Bulldogs' second score of the game came at the 11:18 mark in the second quarter when quarterback Dustin Stenta rushed for 7-yard touchdown to close the OBU lead to 12-9.

The Bulldogs capped off their 12-0 run when Rainey connected on a 30-yard field goal attempt in the second quarter as time expired, completing a 70-yard drive. The score at half stood knotted up at 12-12.

Ultimately, a 21-point differential in the second half proved to be the difference on Saturday, as the Bulldogs fell 33-12.

SWOSU quarterback Dustin Stenta completed 26-of-55 passes for 324 yards. The Bulldogs running game was limited to just 62 yards on 26 carries, an average of 2.5 yards an attempt. Dustin Stenta lead SWOSU running game with 31 yards on 8 carries, including a 7-yard touchdown run in the second quarter of the game. Ryan Corbin lead the Bulldogs receiving core finishing with 10 catches for 104 yards.

Defensively, Ryan Feller lead the Bulldogs with 14 tackles. Jonathan Darby added 12 tackles while Devin Benton collected another sack making that his second of the season.

Rodeo teams finish third

DURANT, Okla.--Southwestern's rodeo team under the direction of second-year coach Mike Visnieski continued its solid run through the first half of its fall rodeo season as the women and men finished third in the recently completed Southeastern Oklahoma Rodeo. The SWOSU women finished with 150 points while the men finished with 350 points.

The Bulldogs will next compete at the Pratt Community College Rodeo beginning October 12 in Pratt, Kan. Visnieski was pleased with the effort that his women's and men's team put forth.

"We had a few tough breaks this weekend that kept us from winning big, but this team understands how important it is to focus on the opportunities they do have and give their best every time," Visnieski said. "That's what really matters to me."

Individually for the men, Jake Stemo and Justin Pollmiller placed in bareback event. Stemo finished in first-place in the long round with a score of 76 and finished sixth and seventh in the short round with a score of 65. Pollmiller finish just one point shy to take second-place in the long round with 75 point and second and third-place finish with 74 point.

In the bull riding event, SWOSU's Sage Kimzey took second-place with a score of 80 while teammate Stemo placed fifth with a score of 75.

Another SWOSU cowboy, Brodie Poppino had a great showing in the tie down event with a time of 9.6 seconds to take a second-place finish.

On the women's side, SWOSU had a solid effort by Emily Miller, Callie Gray and Cati Stanko.

Miller placed second in the barrel racing with a long round time of 17.08 seconds and short round of 17.07 seconds. Miller also won a share of the All-Around Cowgirl with Oklahoma State's Savannah Christensen. Gray finished sixth and seventh in the long round with a time of 17.34 seconds. Stanko ended fourth and fifth in the breakaway roping event.

Talk with Tyler

- 1) GO TO CLASS: More than likely, your troubles have started with skipping class. Do not procrastinate any longer! Get out of bed and go to class!
- 2) TALK TO YOUR PROFESSORS: Go and see what they say about your situation. They should know where you stand in the class and if you will be able to salvage a grade. Showing them that you care about your grade can go a long ways.
- 3) GET A TUTOR: Most departments offer some sort of tutoring service. Use them! They can help explain things in a different way that will often help things click. They will also offer study tips and advice for preparing for tests.
